

Abigail K. Moline

Email: amoline@partners.org

PROFILE

---

A diligent psychology student with research experience in information processing and attentional biases in anxiety and mood disorders, seeking to gain greater experience in the comprehension of how different clinical diagnoses influence cognitive functions. Primary research interests include anxiety/mood disorders, Autism Spectrum Disorder, and ADHD.

EDUCATION

---

Gordon College, Wenham, MA

B.A. in Psychology

Expected: Dec. 2021

Concentration in Counseling, Minor in Biblical Studies

Honors: Founders Scholarship (all semesters), Presidential Honors (all semesters)

GPA: 3.97/4.0

Relevant Coursework: Psychopathology, Beyond Symptoms: Perceptual and Cognitive Changes in Mental Disorders, Multicultural Diversity in Counseling, Lifespan Developmental Psychology, Counseling Theories and Practice

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

---

Student Visitor, Motivated Learning and Memory Lab

May 2021 – Present

McLean Hospital, Belmont, MA

- Partaking in weekly meetings with supervisor, Arkadiy Maksimovskiy, to assist with a project examining how memory is altered in individuals with depression
- Engaging in weekly lab meetings with the other members of the lab to discuss progress and next steps of various ongoing projects
- Creating programs as necessary (i.e. to compute the luminance of hundreds of images in a stimulus set), using both MatLab and Python
- Conducting phone screenings of prospective participants for another ongoing lab project, which is studying emotional processing in depressed individuals

Student Research Assistant, Clinical Perception Lab

Jan. 2020 – Present

Gordon College Department of Psychology, Wenham, MA

- Contributing to the writing process by corresponding with a colleague on behalf of Dr. Norton, researching potential journals for articles in progress, conducting literature reviews, established a more robust introduction for a previously drafted paper, and cooperated with the lab team to draft an IRB proposal
- Under the direction of Dr. Norton, professor of clinical psychology, supervised a team of research assistants on a poster accepted and displayed at the 2020 New England Psychological Association virtual conference
- Fulfilled data analysis tasks such as generating ideas for new analyses of previously collected data, aided in conducting statistical analyses, and created graphs using MatLab

PRESENTATIONS

---

Moline, A.K., Casula, J. M., & Bruno, S. L. (2021, May 5). The impact of perceptual learning on emotion recognition [Poster session]. Gordon College Undergraduate Research Symposium, virtual.

Moline, A. K., Bruno, S. L., Casula, J. M., Fitzgerald, J. E., Brown, T. A., Rutter, L. A., & Norton, D. J. (2020, October 24). Decreased pupillary response to recognition of emotional stimuli in major depressive disorder [Poster session]. New England Psychological Association Annual Meeting, virtual.

HONORS & AWARDS

---

Comcast Leaders and Achievers Scholarship Jun. 2018

- Each school's guidance department was granted the ability to nominate a senior for this distinction; winners received the award at a ceremony in the Massachusetts State House

MA Secondary School Administrators Association Student Achievement Award May 2018

- An honor granted to one student for outstanding contributions to the high school, at the discretion of the principal

PROFESSIONAL HISTORY

---

Discussion Group Leader Sep. 2019 – Dec. 2019

Gordon College, Wenham, MA

- Facilitated weekly discussion for students in an Old Testament survey course
- Chose discussion questions to assist in starting conversations and fostered a comfortable environment for students to freely ask questions about the text

Apparel Sales Associate May 2019 – Aug. 2019

Walmart, North Reading, MA

- Gathered and put away returns for the infants' and girls' departments
- Organized and restocked shelves, tables, and clothing racks
- Assisted customers in checking the stock of certain items over the phone, locating the type of clothing item they were looking for, directed customers in search of other products in other departments, and connected them with management and other personnel as desired

COMMUNITY SERVICE

---

Orientation Group Leader Aug. 2020

Gordon College, Wenham, MA

- Mentored freshmen girls as they navigated their adjustment to Gordon through icebreaker questions, team-building activities, and answering their questions about campus life
- Ensured the schedule was adhered to by accompanying the girls to various events

Night to Shine Volunteer Feb. 2019 – Feb. 2020

North Shore Community Baptist Church, Beverly, MA

- Performed the role of a “buddy” at a prom-style dance designed for individuals with developmental and intellectual disabilities.
- Escorted and accompanied the buddy throughout the night for their most agreeable experience

ORGANIZATIONS

---

- Psi Chi Chapter, Gordon College April 2021 - Present
- Psychology Club, Gordon College Sep. 2018 - Present
- Naturally G Acapella, Gordon College Jan. 2019 – Present
- New England Psychological Association Oct. 2020 – Present
- National Honors Society May 2017 - Present

SKILLS AND ABILITIES

---

- Proficient with Microsoft Office Suite
- Intermediate in SPSS and MatLab